Dear all,

A31 fatal collision - Man arrested and car seized

Police investigating a fatal road traffic collision have arrested a man on suspicion of causing death by dangerous driving and failing to stop following a collision – with officers also seizing a vehicle believed to have been involved.

Sixteen-year-old Jade Clark was struck by a Volvo XC90 as she rode her moped along the A31 near Ashley Heath at 8.23pm on Sunday 24 February 2013.

A 58-year-old Kent man was arrested at an address in the Kent area yesterday morning, Thursday 21 March 2013. This man is currently helping police with their enquiries.

Inspector Matt Butler, of the Dorset Police Traffic Unit, said: “I can confirm that a man is in custody and is being questioned by investigators.

“His vehicle, a Volvo XC90, has been seized and this will now be forensically examined by specialists.

“I would like to thank the local community for their assistance in this investigation so far.

“I would, however, continue to urge anyone who believes they have information about this collision – and has yet to speak with police – to come forward.”

In a joint investigation between the Force's Major Crime Investigation Team and the Traffic Unit, officers had launched an extensive search for a Volvo XC90 registered between 2003 and 2007.

Over 950 vehicles were eliminated by investigators prior to this development.

An inquest into Jade Clark's death was formally opened and adjourned on Monday 4 March 2013, at the Bournemouth Coroner's Court. Evidence was heard that Jade died as a result of a severe head injury.

Witnesses and anyone with information should call Dorset Police on 101 quoting incident number 24:393. Alternatively, call the free and anonymous Crimestoppers line on 0800 555 111 where mobile phone tariffs may apply.

Police appeal after thieves take wheels from Range Rover at Hardley

Published: Wednesday, March 20, 2013

Police from the Lyndhurst Vehicle Crime Unit are appealing for information about the theft of distinctive wheels and tyres from a Range Rover.

Between 5.45pm Friday, March 15, and 8.30am Saturday, March 16, someone cut a hole in the fence of a secure compound at Hardley Industrial Estate. The wheels and tyres were removed from a Range Rover which was stored there.

Missing are four military specification Wolf XD wheels, fitted with Event ML698 tyres, size 245/70/16.

Sergeant Nick Adams, of the Lyndhurst Vehicle Crime Unit, said:

"The vehicle is used by a small local company, and the theft of the wheels has had a real impact on the company at a time when local businesses need our support.

"The wheels are a non-standard military specification, and the tyres and wheels can be identified. If you have been offered wheels or tyres for a Land Rover or Range Rover in the last week, please contact Lyndhurst CID Vehicle Crime Unit on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111."

RMS Number: 44130097667

Western Country Watch Weekly 22nd of March 2013

Colleagues,

Our first CESAR marking day is rapidly approaching, scheduled for Wednesday 27th March 2013. The day is almost fully booked, with capacity for only another six pieces of equipment to be marked. Please ensure you phone Datatag right now if you are hoping to secure a place.

There has been a spate of young males knocking on doors requesting sponsorship for charity events to support 'Help For Heroes' and the 'Grenadier Guards'. The males have been unable to produce any official documentation in relation to such charities. Please remain vigilant and do not hand over any cash until you are satisfied that any such request is genuine.

Yesterday I attended a partnership meeting to review the incidents of dog deaths around Ogdens. A statement will be circulated, hopefully tomorrow containing updated information.

Look after your bike and yourself on the road

With the warmer Spring weather, many people will be enjoying a day out cycling in the New Forest. Not only is it a fun way to spend time with your family or friends, it's also good for the environment and a great way of getting fit!

But before you get on your bike, think about keeping safe on the road with this handy checklist from the Safer New Forest Partnership:

1. Always wear a helmet and make sure that you and your bike can be seen in poor visibility or at night by wearing reflective clothing
2. Look after your bike, check your tyres regularly and if something feels wrong when you're cycling, get it checked
3. Make sure you always pay full attention when cycling, be aware of other road users
4. Know your Highway Code – do you have right of way? Check it out at <https://www.gov.uk/rules-for-cyclists-59-to-82>
5. If you leave your bike in a public place, lock it securely, preferably to a cycle rack. Safer New Forest sells a gold standard D bike lock for £16, available at New Forest District Council information offices. Securing your bike with this toughened lock will act as a visible deterrent to thieves
6. Find out more about the New Forest's cycle routes and road signage at <http://www.newforest.gov.uk/index.cfm?articleid=8035>
7. If you're a youngster, why not take part in the Bikeability 'cycling proficiency' scheme – there's support for adults too. Visit the Bikeability website <http://www.dft.gov.uk/bikeability/> for more information and to find your nearest Bikeability training provider.

- In addition, the Safer New Forest Partnership supports the Immobilise website www.immobilise.com where you can register your bikes and other property for free. The police then use this information to reunite stolen or lost property with its rightful owner.
- Don't forget to security mark your bike with your postcode. Crimestoppers sells a property protector kit to mark your valuables with a unique code. Find out more at www.crimestoppers-uk.org

The New Forest National Park Authority reminds cyclists that much of the New Forest is a working countryside with narrow roads and free-roaming ponies and cattle. It advises:

- Remember to ride in single file and never ride more than two abreast
- Pass the animals slowly, giving them plenty of space
- Look out for and obey all safety signs
- Don't pass vehicles (e.g. loading timber) until you know that the driver has seen you and it is safe to do so
- Off road cycling in the wooded enclosures and heathlands in the centre of the New Forest is only permitted on the approved network of gravel tracks. These are all clearly marked as cycle routes.
