Police and Crime Commissioner approves plans for Fordingbridge SNT to relocate

Published: Wednesday, July 24, 2013

A public engagement meeting was held on May 15, by Hampshire Constabulary's Estate Development Programme, to discuss with the community the proposed relocation of the Fordingbridge Safer Neighbourhoods Team (SNT).

Members of the local community were advised of plans to relocate the SNT from the police station in Station Road, to the Old School House in nearby Provost Road.

The public were reassured that the SNT will remain within the heart of the community, with no change to the current service provision. The SNT will continue to carry out their patrols and hold beat surgeries in various locations in the community.

Following the public engagement meeting, the Police and Crime Commissioner, Simon Hayes, approved plans for the Fordingbridge SNT relocation. He said: "In the light of changes to operational processes, the constabulary is building on successful partnerships with our public sector partners, such as Hampshire Fire and Rescue Service and local councils, for officers and staff to work from alternative locations to maximise value from the public purse.

"Selling for redevelopment old and expensive to maintain buildings, like Fordingbridge Police Station, helps free up funding to assist with the delivery of the priorities set out in the Police and Crime Plan of improving frontline policing to deter criminals and keep communities safe, reducing re-offending, placing victims at the heart of policing and working with partners to achieve these objectives."

The plan, subject to a formal consultation process for the police staff and officers affected by the proposed move, is for Fordingbridge SNT to relocate to the Old School House, in the next few months.

Police appeal after high value burglary in Sopley

Published: Wednesday, July 24, 2013

Detectives at Lyndhurst are appealing for information after the theft of £10,000 in cash and high-value jewellery from a house in Ringwood Road, Sopley.

Sometime between 9.30am and 3pm Thursday, July 18, a burglar forced entry to the home of a 49-year-old woman.

The jewellery includes diamond bracelets, earrings and rings, some with ruby and sapphire. Most of the jewellery is of 9 carat gold, but one diamond ring is set in platinum. Also missing are two men's signet rings, four ladies' wrist watches, two men's wrist watches – one a Rolex submariner and the other a Breitling Super Ocean with a black face – and a Cannon EOS SLR camera.

Some of the women's rings were given to the aggrieved by her aunt and mother.

PC Adrian Jones is asking for help from the public. "I am seeking assistance in identifying the offender. The house is on a busy road in a small village. Anything or anyone who looked out of place that day would have been really noticeable," he said.

PC Jones also would like to hear from anyone who thinks they may have been offered some of the missing jewellery.

Police renew theft warning to supermarket shoppers

Published: Wednesday, July 24, 2013

Police at Hythe today renewed their advice to shoppers in supermarket car parks to be wary of strangers who ask for help after customers have loaded shopping and handbags into their cars.

The warning comes after a thief took bank cards from an 83-year-old woman in the car park of Morrison's supermarket, Spruce Drive, Totton.

The woman was preparing to drive off on Friday, July 12, when a black man knocked on the driver's window. He produced a satellite navigation screen and asked, in broken English, "Where is hospital? Where is hospital?"

At first, the woman got out of her car and tried to type in the hospital name. She then sat in the car and attempted to make the screen work. At this point, the man took the screen and walked away quickly.

The following day, the woman noticed two bank cards were missing from her wallet, which had been in her handbag. Although no money has been taken from her account, her bank has confirmed that attempts were made to use the card as far away as Amesbury, Wiltshire.

The suspect is described as a black man who is 6ft tall and of athletic build. He had short black hair, about an inch in length, and was unshaven. He wore a blue baseball cap, blue denim jeans and a blue shirt with long sleeves.

PC Jon Kennett is investigating the theft. "This is a particularly callous crime against an elderly woman who was intentionally put in a vulnerable position," he said.

"Incidents like this have occurred at Morrison's for the last few months, and I urge any shoppers to be vigilant for any men matching the suspect's description to call police as soon as they suspect any suspicious activity."

RMS Number: 44130258279

COUNTRY WATCH

Western Weekly:

25th July 2013

Colleagues,

In the "Vehicles of Interest" section below there are four reports of a red Transit flat-bed/cab being seen in various suspicious circumstances. However, only one person managed to get a registration number. It makes it very difficult for us to link vehicles to suspicious incidents without such information. Without putting yourself at risk, please try to obtain vehicle registration numbers whenever possible as this greatly assists us with developing our intelligence.

We are still suffering from break-ins to outbuildings including sheds, garages, barns and workshops. Please ensure that you have sufficient security in place with good quality padlocks/locks and robust hinges and hasps. Items being stolen include garden tools, power tools, ride on mowers and trailers. Various security marking options are available for such equipment. Please contact the Country Watch team if you would like us to visit you to provide crime prevention and security advice.

We will be in the Countryside Area for all three days of the New Forest Show next week. We will have representatives from the Firearms Licensing Department, Police & Crime Commissioners Office and local Senior Management. Please come and visit us if you are at the show.

There will be no newsletter next week due our New Forest Show commitment.
